progress on promoting local economic development. NCEPU is an active participator in the promotion of interscholastic cooperation, and as the major sponsor it has participated in establishing the Beijing High-Tech Universities Alliance for complementary advantages and resource sharing and encourage cooperative innovation among universities.

The university has been engaged in the internationalized education, and developed substantive communication and cooperation with about 140 internationally renowned universities and research institutes. Meanwhile, it has established the credit transfer and recognition system with partner universities and set up programs of regular student exchange, scientific research cooperation and experts reciprocal visits. NCEPU has actively implemented the Belt and Road Initiative and foreign aid training programs. The university has built China-Europe renewable energy innovation center with Hessen, Germany - China Promotion Center and China-Mongolia renewable energy innovation center with Mongolia. As the leading university of China in the energy science domain at the Shanghai Cooperation Organization University, NCEPU has established a think-tank in energy sector for SCO University.

As the research-oriented leading university in the field of electric power, at a new historical juncture, NCEPU undertakes the honor and dream of the era and actively fulfills the historical task to cultivate top-level innovative talents, create high-level scientific research achievements, and provide first-class service for the country and society.

1. Brief Introduction of NCEPU

North China Electric Power University (NCEPU) is a national key university, directly under the leadership of the Ministry of Education. Its headquarters is located in Beijing with a branch campus in Baoding. The two campuses carry out integrated management. NCEPU now has about 3,000 faculty members, over 20,000 full-time undergraduate students and nearly 10,000 post-graduate students. It covers an area of over 1,600 acres with floorage of over 1 million square meters.

NCEPU was founded in 1958 in Beijing, jointly administrated by the Ministry of Education and the university Council. The Council involves 12 state owned companies, including State Grid Corporation of China, etc.

Over the past century, NCEPU has undertaken the historic mission of cultivating highly competent talents for the country's energy and power industry and promoting scientific and technological progress in this field. Upon the entry of the new century, NCEPU has upheld the principle of "establishing the university by disciplinary construction, strengthening the university by talents cultivation, thriving the university through scientific research, and developing the university with distinctive characteristics". NCEPU has seized development opportunities and achieved great progress.

NCEPU has 12 schools, totally 64 undergraduate majors, including the School of Electrical and Electronic Engineering, School of Energy Power and Mechanical Engineering, School of Control and Computer Engineering, School of Economics and Management, School of Environmental Science and Engineering, School of New Energy, School of Hydraulic and Hydropower Engineering, etc. The university has one national level key discipline (Energy and Power Science and Engineering), 25 provincial level key disciplines. All these forms a complete system to train undergraduates, masters, and doctorate students.

Relying on the university council, NCEPU has constantly deepened the university-industry-research cooperation and reached strategic cooperation relations with about 100 large domestic and overseas energy and power enterprises to jointly undertake important researches and development projects to accelerate exploitation and industrialization of scientific and technological achievements. It has successively obtained two titles of Special Contribution Unit of Demonstration Project for Ultra-high Voltage Alternating and Direct Current Experiment of State Grid Corporation of China. NCEPU has constructed the multifaceted university-industry-research cooperation platform, and signed framework cooperation agreement with more than 20 local governments to deepen cooperation on strategic emerging industries and achieved great
